The Release

"Say I'm Yours" arrives as one of the most unique collaborations yet for Marc Antonix - linking with KenzDean [behind-the-scenes solo talents known for multi-million stream production in hip-hop and beyond] — forming club record bring out the glimmer of melodic progressive with the weight of mid-tempo rhythms.

The result is magnifying - clean energy escalation in the builds and personality-packed 'shine' laced throughout the drops have brought forth another rich corner of the Marc Antonix pallet.

Marc Antonix's music reminds us to stay simple and 'play.'

“Say I’m Yours” ramps this to 11.

Built on a smooth, progressive foundation, the track unfolds with purpose: light melodies drifting over a steady mid-tempo groov - warm synth textures that shape a late-night atmosphere from the moment the first phrase hits. The mood is set. Nothing in the production feels rushed or overstated; instead, every element serves the mood. Antonix and KenzDean capture a balanced middle ground where the track truly translates - club, car, headphones, group listening solo listening, ect. Clean, rudimental and made from the heart - Create Music Group has officially signed and set date for Feb 27th.

*More about // Marc Antonix

Marc Antonix has steadily carved out a place for himself within the modern electronic space, building a catalog that blends bass house, electro, and cinematic production into a cohesive, recognizable signature. His releases — including “Echoes,” “Shooting Stars,” “Visions,” “4AM,” and an official remix of Heidi Montag’s “I’ll Do It” — have surpassed 3.75M Spotify streams and earned support from major names such as The Chainsmokers, Afrojack, Fedde Le Grand, Bingo Players, Morgan Page, Blasterjaxx, and Don Diablo. On the live front, he has brought that sound to stages including Academy LA, Avalon Hollywood, and The Venue ATX, with additional support slots for Alan Walker and Haliene underscoring his range in both high-energy and melodic settings. “Say I’m Yours” continues the more relaxed, reflective direction he has been leaning into, showing how naturally he can shape smoother mid-tempo ideas while preserving the tension, focus, and atmosphere that define his work. It’s a measured step forward — the sound of an artist who knows exactly where he’s headed and is building toward it with intention.
